SUMMARY

I am a graduate student from De La Salle University Dasmariñas, driven by a passion for technology and creativity. I specialize in front-end programming, with a strong passion for creating user-friendly and visually engaging web interfaces. Beyond coding, I bring a creative eye for UI design, allowing me to craft websites that are not only functional but also aesthetically appealing. I place great importance on user experience, ensuring that every website I design or develop is intuitive, responsive, and built with both form and function in mind.
